

One-Night Conference Sponsored by AFP

*Historian David Irving, Author Texe Marrs to Appear in Washington on Nov. 16
Sponsored by AFP and TBR*

DAVID IRVING: Recognized as the greatest living historian in the English language, David Irving is scheduled to speak at an event sponsored by AMERICAN FREE PRESS newspaper and THE BARNES REVIEW gathering at an unannounced venue in Washington, D.C. on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 16, 2011. Irving will be lecturing on various topics related to his World War II research. He is the author of Hitler's War, Churchill's War, The Secret Diary of Hitler's Doctor, Der Morgenthau Plan, Nuremberg: The Final Battle, The War Between the Generals, The Mare's Nest, The Trail of the Fox, The Virus House, Hess: The Missing Years, The Night the Dams Burst and many more. Due to efforts to sabotage Mr. Irving's speaking engagements in the past, the venue shall remain secret until one week before the event. Our staff can give you some advice on this matter, but you can expect a top-notch facility, staff and food. All attendees must be subscribers to AFP or TBR.

TEXE MARRS: Also appearing as a speaker will be prolific author Texe Marrs, who has a huge following across the world for his hard-hitting books and videos. Marrs is the author of The Conspiracy of the Six-Pointed Star, Codex Magica, Dark Majesty, Circle of Intrigue, Project LUCID, New Age Cults and Religions and dozens more.

The cost of the evening—which will include a sumptuous banquet meal—is $90 per person; just $160 per couple. Books and book signings will be available. If interested, please call Julia at 202-544-5977 (M-Th, 9-5 p.m.). Limited seating available. You may purchase your tickets with a credit card when you call.
